

Trail Tales

*The laughter, the Adventure,
the Woes, the Memories of 35 Years of Trailbuilding
... in Rhyme No less*

Roger Bell, Ph.D.
Trailbuilder

TRAIL TALES

The Laughter, the Adventure, the Woes, the Memories of 35 years of Trailbuilding

By Roger Bell

In Trail Tales, Roger Bell brings to vigorous life his 35 years as a trailbuilder. With humor and wisdom, he confesses his misadventures as a rookie, relives hair-raising stories from mountain tops and deserts, and spins yarns of quirky characters they met along the way.

Roger Bell, President of Bellfree Contractors, Inc., is a Board member of American Trails and the Professional Trailbuilders Association. A leader in the trails community, he frequently speaks and writes about trail issues and innovations. He holds a doctorate in Higher Education from the University of Washington and lives in Redlands, California, with his wife, Carol.

"This book shows trailbuilders as they really are: part cowboy, part naturalist, part inventor, part cat (nine lives), part crazy—but mostly the best characters you could ever hope to work with."

- Troy Scott Parker, President, Natureshape, and author of Natural Surface Trails by Design

NOW AVAILABLE
in the

American Trails Online Bookstore!

Click Here!

See More details and order online at:

<http://www.americantrailsstore.org/items/trailtales.html>